Design

and you can have it at any location imaginable - when you carefully plan and select your wedding flowers. The beauty and fragrance of flowers enhances your wedding theme. If you've always planned to be married in a romantic paradise, set the scene with soft lighting and warm or pastel shades of pink, lilac, creamy white, gold-tones in the lights, flowers, and ribbons.

Styles of bouquet:

- Posy
Small simple and usually tied with ribbon
- Round
The classic bouquet usually consists of larger flowers such as roses and peonies
- Hand tie
Blooms that are wired together or casually tied
- Shorer
A waterfall-like spill of flowers cascading from the brides hand
- Over arm
Bouquets carried over the arm like cradling a Baby

Oranges and yellows

If you have your heart set on a lively, party, wedding-celebration, use bright lighting, and brilliant splashes of golds, oranges, cobalt blues, hot pinks, purples and reds in your flowers and accessories. If you can dream it, we can build it.....

General thoughts about Wedding Flowers
Wedding flowers can be a large portion of the cost of putting on a wedding, but don't let this discourage you. Don't underestimate the importance of having flowers at your wedding. Flowers at a wedding denote celebration, congratulation, fertility, and prosperity. They contribute to the atmosphere of love and embody the beauty and promise of joining two lives together.

For You

for wedding flowers and floral planning should begin up to a year in advance and especially if you are marrying in the summer months, weekends get booked up quickly

If you require a large number of arrangements or elaborate designs, we will need to start preparation a full week before the wedding. Colour-matched ribbons and flowers as well as other floral accessories can take time for the florist to special order.
